MEDICAL/SPECIAL NEEDS REQUIREMENTS: Physical, developmental, mental, emotional, behavioral, or medical disability.

SERVICES: "Supplemental" child care subsidy – Most children with disabilities can be in typical child care settings with little or no accommodation. However, some children do require extra supports for safe and appropriate care. These supports or accommodations may involve added costs to child care providers and parents. The subsidy helps pay for extra supports in child care that are related to a child's special needs. The subsidy amount is based on the child's individual needs in his or her specific child care setting. Families pay the child care provider's customary fees. The subsidy pays for those things that cannot reasonably be covered within the provider's basic rates.
